Frewsburg secondary school selected the Ulrich Cadfile for their library poster & map storage. First because the Cadfile is a high capacity map storage cabinet. In fact this cabinet can store 1,000 posters and maps in the smallest footprint available. Next this cabinet is less than 11 inches deep. Also the cabinet easily rolls on it's heavy duty casters. Allowing it to be stored anywhere in the library.

The Cadfile is a vertical flat file which uses a unique spring compression system, and heavy duty folders to protects the documents from damage. In addition this cabinet uses very little floor space for document storage. While this vertical flat file cabinet's heavy duty folders provide great document protection and a convenient way to organize your library poster & map storage.

Preserving a Special Collection

One collection in Frewsburg's library poster & map storage is Picturing America. Which includes 40 large high-quality, full color, reproductions of works of art. This art spans several centuries and containing work created by American painters, sculptors, photographers and architects.

"Naturally, we are excited to have these beautiful and historic images available to our children, says Robin Trapani, Frewsburg's Library Media Specialist. "We display these posters on a rotating basis. And the Ulrich Cadfile preserves and protects the posters while they are in storage. As a result children can enjoy these images for many, many years."

Before we had several sections of flat file cabinets that we were using for this purpose. The flat file cabinets used to much valuable library space and were not very attractive. While Ulrich Cadfile cabinet is so small. Of course it fits well in our library. And the cabinet will hold this collection plus many more. It is amazing that such a small cabinet can hold 1,000 documents."
